The Court may upon the application of the respondent pass such judgment against the third party before such respondent has satisfied the judgment against him or her: Provided that it shall be lawful for the Court to set aside or vary any judgment passed under this Rule upon such terms as may seem just.

Denials
by joinder
of issues

- (a) where the amendment is to correct the name of a party even if it has the effect of substituting a new party, if the Court is satisfied that the mistake sought to be corrected was a genuine mistake;
- (b) where the amendment is to alter the capacity in which the party is or is made party to the proceedings, if the altered capacity is one which that party could have been or been made party at the institution of the proceedings;
- (c) where the amendment adds or substitutes a new cause of action if the new cause of action arises out of the same facts or substantially the same facts as a cause of action in respect of which relief has already been claimed by the party seeking leave in the same case.
